

Technical stuff

IronMailer is a java-based solution - the buzzword is J2EE, but more specifically it uses

- the Cocoon XML publishing framework (current in version 2.1.3)
- a Java-servlet engine, 2.2 standard or higher (such as Tomcat 3.3 or other)
- a Java development kit, 1.4 or higher

Note:

An integrated version of IronMailer with Cocoon and a Servlet-Engine is maintained, check the download page.
